LEISTENSNIDER

JOHN LEISTENSNIDER was born in Germany in 1817; he emigrated to this country in the year 1836, September 9th, and first located at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, where he worked at his trade, that of tailoring, until in 1839. He was then married to Catherine Schwartz and at once moved to Lewisbury, York County, Pa., where he started in business for himself, which he carried on successfully for thirteen years. By hard labor and constant toil he accumulated a small fortune of about two thousand, four hundred dollars which he took with him to Savannah, Ashland County, Ohio, in 1852 and invested in a farm just west of the village. Here he again opened a merchant tailoring establishment, a business he followed for twenty-one years. He then disposed of his stock and moved to another farm three miles southwest of Savannah where he resided until his death twenty-two years ago the 23rd of November, his wife dying three years later.

To them were born ten children of whom all are living except two who died in infancy. Mary married William Gibson; to them were born nine children namely, Chalmer, Albert, Maggie, Harry, Frank, Elta, Flora; Nellie and Lora died in infancy.

Our subject John Leistensnider labored under more than ordinary disadvantages and is entitled to a great deal of credit for the success which he attained, born of poor parents and with but little opportunity for schooling. He raised himself by hard toil and industry and good management from a poor boy with nine coppers in his pockets, when he landed in Baltimore, to one of the most substantial and leading citizens of Clearcreek Township. Mr. Leistensnider was a man of good judgment, independent in thought and action, honorable and courteous and highly regarded by all who knew him.

Adam Leistensnider was born in New Bariva, Germany, February 20th, 1805. He was married to Louise Eichenlamb May 5th, 1828.
